Ship's Log

"I believe the wicked artefact in the treasure hold has brought a monster of the deep to us. God's help us."

"...a storm so fierce it must have been conjured from Hell itself.."

"Where we are I cannot guess.

Lightning struck the ship in the midst of our battle with the monster. It must have activated some latent magic in the artefact.

We find ourselves in a cavern with no way out. Magic so powerful should be buried for eternity; sadly we are to be entombed along with it."

"Food gone. Shoes and belts eaten. We look upon one another hungrily."

"This is the last. The monster is here with us. It batters the hull from below. My strength fails..."

The treasure is a powerful artifact. Perhaps it has been drained of its power by keeping the squid alive, creating the squidlings, and raising the captain and crew... Or perhaps not.
