THE GNOMAD NANOLICH, KURREN, IS HOLED UP BENEATH THE LACONA RIDGE. HE'S BEEN TERRORISING THE LOCAL AREA WITH HIS UNDEAD DRAGON. TAKE HIM OUT.

The ODD ROOM has several hives with ZOMBIES. The queens are dead, the bees construct nanites from the raw material (sand) at the bottom of the room.

A hulking ECHODRAVE (gecko-man) is also here. He will burst through the wall into the spare room unless players are quiet.

The ENTRANCE has two GOBLINS probeding this area until their undeath.

The LARGE ROOM houses Kurren's UNDEAD DRAGON. It breathes a cloud of nano-spores from a gash in its throat.

KURREN sleeps in his IRON MAIDEN in the ARCU ROOM.

NANOSPORES control the nervous system of their host. This must be sondered to kill the host - the spores will try to infect local life.

Infected? A mental save will prevent it controlling your body.

All creatures within are infected, bar Kurren.
